SUNDAY, MAY 29, 1864.

NEWS FROM EUROPE.

The Saintango arrived yesterday morning with dates from Paris and London to the 25th of April, and Lisbon, 29th.

ENGLAND.

The Bank interest had risen to 7 per cent, and from a private letter which we received from a distinguished Liverpool merchant we learn that there is every probability that the rate will be raised.

There is a wild speculation going on in joint stock companies, which it is feared will terminate in a crisis.

Garibaldi caused much a furore in England that he was advised to return to Caprera. It was generally believed that this was owing to the intervention of Palmerston.

All fears of a European conflagration seem to have subsided.

The Mexican loan was all taken up, and the bonds were de. 83 premium. The total amount of the loan is seven millions sterling.

It was thought at the leaving of the French mail that a war is inevitable between Russia and Turkey; the former had already given orders for the invasion of the principalities.

The revolution in Poland is still dragging along, the Russians becoming more cruel than ever.

A new line of steamers was started to run between Liverpool and Valparaiso, calling at Montevideo, and passing through the Straits of Magellan.

The proposed abdication of Portugal in the dispute between England and Brazil was hailed with satisfaction by all parties.

Lord Clarendon went to Paris on a special mission, supposed to refer not only to an arrangement of the Schleswig-Holstein question, but also various matters of European policy. Both countries are well satisfied with his mission, and Paris journals hope for peace. The first annoying affair of Mexico has also given great satisfaction. It is thought the convention assembled at London, relative to Denmark, will become a general Ambassadors' Congress, and so realize the idea of Napoleon III Lord Clarendon was said to have demanded the departure of Garibaldi from England, and the "hero" made a precipitate retreat, which has called forth the anger of M. Louis Blanc. Garibaldi had, however, met with an ovation throughout England, entering London amid the acclamations of 60,000 persons. He was received there with the freedom of the city.

FRANCE.

France, April 22.

'La France' of this evening says: "The Council of State budget has been postponed for a few days."

It will be found necessary to propogate the Corps Legislatif for a fortnight.

The 'Temps' has received a second warning.

It is well known that Lord Palmerston yielded to Napoleon's wishes in requesting Garibaldi to leave England, although Lord Clarendon contradicted it in the House of Lords. The royal fete left Plymouth on the 20th April for Caprera, after being honoured with a visit from the Prince of Wales. The Emperor forbade the Shakespeare tercentenary at Paris.

UNITED STATES

We have dates to the 9th April.

The campaign of 1864 has not yet opened in Virginia. Both sides are making great preparations.

Federal General Grant arrived at the Potomac, and called Generals McClellan and Fremont to active service, declaring that now the fight was to commence in earnest, and that his head quarters would be in his saddle.

The Confederate General Lee was fortifying his position on the Rapidan, and preparing for an attack.

The Southern Government, imitating the Northern, have named General Braxton Bragg as Commander-in-Chief.

In Louisiana, close to Alexandria, a battle had ensued between 8000 Northerners and 12,000 Confederates, resulting in the capture of 500 prisoners by the former.

The Vanderbilt, in her chase after the Alabama, spent $80,000 in coal.

Under the chase ended in

In Washington the Congress is still sitting, and a bill has been passed, authorising the reforming of the Constitution and thus total abolition of slavery. The protest, which was introduced into the house on the subject of the Mexican Empire, has been ordered to be laid on the table.

According to the latest dates from Mexico, the French were marching on Guadalajara.

The Confederates, it was rumoured, had taken Forpillon, also Fort Pillow, in Mississippi, and were preparing an attack on Memphis.

RUSSIA AND CIRCASSIA.

Trieste, April 22.

Advices received here from Constantinople state that the battle between the Circassians and the Russians on the 1st inst., the former lost 2,000 and the latter 1,000 men.

The Circassians are now negociating with the Turkish Government for permission to settle in Turkey.

All the foreign officers who assisted the Circassians had escaped safely to Trapezund. The Porte had sent five steamers to convey them to Sinope Samsun, and Varna.

Resignation of Count Forghac.

Vienna, April 22.

According to the 'Presse' of to-day, Count Forgach, the Hungarian Aulic Chancellor, has resigned in consequence of the Minister President. He will be succeeded by Count Herman Zichy.

THE MEXICAN EMPIRE.

Reception of the Mexican Deputation.

Speech of Archduke Maximilian.

Miramar, April 10.

The Archduke Maximilian received the Mexican to-day. He spoke as follows—

"After a mature examination of the act of acceptance of the Mexican Crown which you have submitted to me, I have come to the conclusion that the resolution of the Mexican Notables has been confirmed by an overruling majority of the intelligent part of the country. Such being the case, the first of the conditions for which I stipulated on the 3rd of October has been fulfilled. The second condition that a guarantee of the independence and welfare of the country should be placed on a firm basis, has been secured by the Emperor Napoleon, who throughout has been animated by a spirit of sincerity and kindness which I shall never forget. The circumstances of my family had also given his consent.

"I now solemnly declare my acceptance of the crown you have offered to me. Mexico is entitled to expect a Government corresponding to her wishes and requirements. This confidence shall not be misplaced, I assume the conditions hereto, as proposed to me by the nation. I shall retain it so long as it may be necessary to establish on a firm and solid basis, and completely to organise liberal institutions. I shall hasten to place the monarchy under the authority of constitutional laws so soon as the pacification of the country shall be accomplished. Executive power strictly defined is better secured than when a matter of uncertainty; and I will define it in such a manner as shall be a guarantee of the stability of the Government. I hope to be enabled to prove that I will regulate my liberty so compatible with order. I will also uphold with equal energy the flag of independence. I desire the assistance of every Mexican in accomplishing my splendid task. Union will make us strong.

"My Government, I repeat it, will not forget the gratitude due to the illustrious Prince by whom alone the regeneration of Mexico has been rendered possible.

"On my journey to Mexico I shall visit Rome to receive the blessing of the Holy Father, which to me is doubly important."

The speech of the Emperor of Mexico was replied to by the president of the Mexican deputation.

Official Notification of the Accession of Maximilian I.

It is from Miramar that the European Governments will receive the official notification of the accession of the Emperor Maximilian I. to the throne of Mexico. That communication will be followed by the Powers of the newly-elected Sovereign. A Madrid journal, however, states that the Queen's Government has resolved to wait until the Emperor Maximilian shall have entered into possession of his throne, and has addressed himself to the Spanish nation through an ambassador, before it recognises him as Mexican monarch. France will, it is said, immediately after the official notification has been made to her, accredit the Count de Montholon as Minister at the Court of the new Emperor. The Emperor Maximilian wished, rumour asserts, to confide the mission to M. de Gutierrez de Estrada, the president of the Mexican deputation, but the latter refused on account of his health. M. Hidalgo, who has given to M. Gutierrez de Estrada the most intelligent co-operation, will be named Minister at the Court of the Tuileries. Mr. Arcangeiz, who before being named Minister of Finance, had filled important Missions in the United States and in Europe, will represent the Mexican Empire in London; while M. Morphy, who formerly occupied the same post, will take the legation at Madrid. All these nominations will not become definitive until the Emperor Maximilian shall have arrived at Mexico.

Hostilities between Spain & Peru

Seizure of the Chincha Islands

The 'Patria,' of Valparaiso, gives a full account of the quarrel between Spain and Peru, with all the diplomatic correspondence.

The news brought us some days ago by a passenger from Chile, is fully confirmed.

On the 20th of March, M. Mazzaredo directed a letter from his post at Lima to the Minister of Foreign affairs for Peru, announcing his arrival with a special mission from the Spanish Government, and soliciting an interview. Three days later the Peruvian Secretary replied that he would receive Sor Mazzaredo on the 30th inst. at the Government house. Accordingly the latter presented his credentials, bearing date Madrid, January 18th, 1864, and empowering him as special Commissary to fulfil the objects of mission. The Peruvian Government rejected his title of Commissary (only such were among the colonies), but offered him provisionally that of "confidential agent" to carry out his purpose.

On the 31st of April, M. Mazzaredo fully unmasked his intentions. He states that the Congress had proposed raising a loan of seventy millions of silver dollars, and that such a sum could have no other object than to resist the just demands of Spain. He adds that the Spanish Government will regulate its policy according to the moderation of the Peruvian authorities, and if any outrages be committed the reprisals by Spain will be prompt and decisive. The next document is a dispatch from Admiral Pinzon, notifying that he feels bound to seize the Chincha Islands till further orders, as he holds the Queen's vian navy officers as hostages for the security of Spanish residents in Peru, and that he has taken the Chincha Islands in reply of the Peruvian Minister, for whom he entertains the most exalted esteem.

The Admiral and Commissary then make a manifesto:

1st. The conduct of Peru towards Mazzaredo renders a display of force indispensable.

2nd. The long patience of Spain has allowed the republic to consider her impotent.

3rd. Spain has never recognised the independence of Peru, owing to the obstinate conduct of the republic.

4th. A naval expedition to blockade the ports, as this would only cause useless destruction and bloodshed.

5th. Spain does not wish to interfere with Peru's internal republics, and will not touch terra firma

6th. Peru has already declared to Q. Britain that the Chincha Islands are more Government property.

7th. Spain has as much right to these islands as to Fernando Po. Arcadon, and others returned to her by Great Britain.

8th. The new loan of 70 millions is designed to resist Spain.

9th. The navy weapons the Spanish fleet seizes the Chincha Islands and Peruvian war vessels, on April 14th, 1864.

On the same day the Admiral notifies the Governor of the islands to give them up, within fifteen minutes, or he will at once seize them by force. The Governor refused, but yielded to the intimation.

In reply to the circular manifesto of Mazzaredo and Pinzon, the Foreign Ministers met at Lima on the 20th of April, declaring—

1st. That they condemned the conduct of the Spanish agents.

2nd. That they do not recognise the claim of Spain to the islands.

Visit of the King of Prussia to the Army.—Speech of the King

Reinlsburg, April 22.

The King of Prussia, on his reception at the railway station, said—

His Majesty praised and thanked several of the officers and soldiers, and the whole of the troops defiled before the King. After which he took his leave, and at 4.30 p.m. went on to the trenches.

Early this morning Herr Von Bismarck, accompanied by Herr Kendell, councillor of legation, passed through Hamburgh, on his way to join the King of Prussia.

It issaid that the object of the King's visit to the Duchies is to sound the population, and to pave the way for a vote in conformity with the views of the Prussian Government.

It is said that the Emperor of Austria is expected in the Duchies.

The minor States were occupied with the Danish war and London conferences. The Vienna papers deny that Austria, Russia, and Turkey intend to occupy the Danubian principalities.

DENMARK.

Duppel has fallen after a heroic resistance on the part of the Danes, and heavy losses on both sides; the Austrians and Prussians now masters of the place. The island of Alsen is the last part of the Duchy to be conquered, but it must fall of the fate of Duppel They also hold a part of Jutland belonging to Denmark. There were great rejoicings at Berlin, and the Prussian fleet was out to visit his army in Slesvig. The London conferences continue, but Prussia is resolved to continue the war if necessary. It is said that France, Sweden, Russia, and England will order the allies to evacuate Jutland.

HOLLAND AND BELGIUM.

The States General met on April 19th. The constitution is to be revised. Dutch Guiana, on most liberal principles.

Maximilian takes a Belgian bodyguard to Mexico, besides a corps of 6,000 and 3000 marines.

THE EAST.

They are in a state of revolutions in the Danubian principalities and throughout the East. Greece is in a ferment, and one of the new Ministers has resigned.

SPAIN

The reformed constitution was thrown out. The progressistas were making violent opposition against the national festival of May 2nd. Bad news from St. Domingo. Reinforcements were about to be sent thither under General Prim.

LATEST FROM PARAGUAY

ARRIVAL of the PARAGUARY

The news from Paraguay is very important.

Sr. Don Jose Vasquez Sagastume, the Oriental Minister, had an audience with his Excellency the President, on the 17th inst., and presented his credentials, &c. It is thought that he will arrange the difficulty existing between the Oriental and Paraguayan Governments.

Sr. Arce, the Bolivian Minister, has arrived in Bolivia, and published a long letter respecting Paraguay, which erroneously charges President Lopez with conspiring, with the Argentine Republic, to rob Bolivia of its territory. Minister Arce, who, it may be remembered, was in Buenos Ayres, testifies to the giant strides of Paraguay since the death of Francia, and augurs for it a great future; but, he says, that it is since the battle of Caseros that Paraguay has made the most progress. With the fall of Rosas the river navigation became open, and Paraguay concluded treaties with the Argentine Republic, Brazil, England, France, Sardinia, and the United States. He further states that the Railway Terminus (built by Mr. Taylor), is the largest in South America, and the splendid, when finished, will be the largest south of the Equator. The army, he states is composed of twelve regiments, twelve thousand men, not twelve thousand idle soldiers, but twelve thousand disciplined labourers and thoroughly drilled soldiers; every man in the army has to work. The National Guard, he states, numbers forty-four thousand men. He says that in all Paraguay there cannot be found a man or woman who cannot read and write.

The 'Semanario' publishes the article from the 'Procureur D'Anvers,' which appeared in our columns also.

'The state of things in the River Plate,' is ably treated in a leading article of the 'Semanario,' and the armed intervention of Brazil in the Banda Oriental commented on in a masterly manner. Our Paraguayan colleague says, with much truth, that it behoves the republic men in the River Plate to remember that there are now two powerful empires in America, Mexico, and Brazil.

The greatest attention seems now to be paid to the cultivation of tobacco and proper curing of it. Each week we are glad to see our colleague gives instructing instructions which cannot fail to have effect.

From the Villa Concepcion, we hear that a good deal of the cotton sowed missed, but still there would be an average crop; the farmers, however, in that district seem more anxious to devote time to sow than the cotton, as the year plantations on an extensive scale will take place, and fresh seed is what is required. The tobacco crop also missed in the same place.

On the 14th May, the anniversary of Paraguayan Independence from Spain, there was High Mass in the Cathedral, review of the troops, and a diplomatic levee at the President's Palace. In the evening there was a grand ball at the club in honor of the day.

It has unfortunately most copiously in Paraguay, but the rain has done no damage whatever to the crops.

The wall of the Hotel de la Asuncion fell the other day, killing a dozen of cocks and hens.

People were preparing in Asuncion for the great occasion, when the first train to take place in Paraguari, the blessing of the church, which has been built by Government.

The train was to be opened on the 1st June, to the town of Pirayu, which is three leagues further. Messrs. Burrell and Valpy are indefatigable in bringing the road to completion.

The statue to the President's father, for which the Paraguayans alone subscribed 15 pesos, is, we read, to be placed in Asuncion. We think this is a great mistake. The statue of a man who has done so much for Paraguay as the present President, should adorn the capital of the Republic.

A correspondent of the 'Semanario' states that the Paraguayan army amounts to 30,000 men, viz.:

In Cerro Leon	...	10,000
" Asuncion	...	5,000
" Humaita	...	8,000
" Concepcion	...	3,000
" Missiones	...	4,000
		30,000

Thirty thousand, soldiers all drilled and trained, and all self supporting.

A correspondent of the 'Semanario' from Pilar, states that a new branch of industry has of late sprung up-since the sowing of cotton—namely, spinning and weaving cotton. All the cotton in the place has been gathered in, and the women devote themselves to spinning it. The movement, we understand, offers every facility to this home manufacture, and it, no doubt, will ultimately have a great effect in the import market of Buenos Ayres.

The enlisting at Cerro Leon continues, and recruits from all parts keep continually arriving. There are now over twenty thousand men under arms there now; at the hospital there are over 1000 cavalry recruits.

One of the most extraordinary features is the great rise in the River Paraguay, which it is to be hoped will continue so as to facilitate the navigation of Upper and Lower Paraguay—the steamer Rio Blanca, which got so stuck in the mud that it was impossible to get her off, has at last got afloat, and is now about to fun again.

Mr. Whitehead has got the steamer Panana in his hands, and is making a new boat of her.

The dry dock which Mr. Taylor was constructing is completely abandoned for the present, owing to the great rise in the river.

The new Custom House, which is about the only discreditable public building in Asuncion, being built all on a slant, is now open. It is to be regretted that so egregious an error in an architectural point of view, should be committed, but otherwise it is a splendid commodious building.

The tramways through the city are constantly at work. We wish we had one in Buenos Ayres.

A colleague states that another steamer is nearly ready at the Arsenal. President Lopez is very busy and get a loan of Mr. Whitehead from President Lopez for a couple of years.

A cargo of rails for the railway has been discharged from the port of Buenos Negra. It would seem as if the Paraguayans were about to construct another railway.

The steamer Iguruy, on her last trip from Buenos Ayres to Paraguay, took up six Englishmen, all boasting of the name of M'Culloch.

The Custom House returns for the month of April are published—

Imports, $178,610 4½ fts.

Exports, $137,062 5½ rts.

Sr. Brizuela had arrived in Asuncion from Montevideo.

Our colleague states that there has been a sale of 5,000 bales of tobacco for export. We heard nothing previously of so important a sale, and at such good prices—

Good leaf, 23 rls.

Regular, 18 "

Pito, 14 "

The arrivals of tobacco in Asuncion were very heavy, and the Government assorters were unable to keep up with the supply. The price paid in Asuncion for best leaf is 22 reals—rather high, we think.

THE PALLIERE ALBUM.

Our friend, the distinguished Franco-Argentine painter, has issued the second part of No. 1, and the pictures now before us confirm our anticipations respecting the merit of the Album and the entertainment it will afford its patrons and the public at large.

An Indian Invasion realizes all the terrors of that awful scene, which once occurred in the Argentine Republic when the Indians of the Pampas is sure never to fade from his vision. Also that such a picture should be found in the collection of M. La Plata, and that unfortunately of too frequent occurrence. Before us is a band of sixteen savages careering over the cattle farm of some unhappy estanciero, whose blazing house in the background shows the murderous and ruthless work of those incarnate demons. The wild, savage fury of horse and rider is well depicted. The long lances, bare limbs and flowing hair of the party all much to their terrible appearance, but wherein there is nothing in their complexion or equipments to distinguish them from the gauchos of the Pampas. The poncho, bolas, and recado-saddle are the same as we see every day, and all have bridles, although there is a vulgar idea that Indians ride without. The lasso is also terrible, the only covering for the head is a handkerchief, and some have their feet bare, while others wear "botas de potro." The other rider wears spurs, and is better clad than the rest, being probably their escapee, and perhaps a non-easy convict from the prison of Buenos Ayres, as often happens. Each one of the figures looks like a female, but the women seldom go on predatory excursions, and therefore such pictures will soon be a romance rather than reality, and that our rural countrymen may long be spared the terrors of a "malon."

The River Paranagua gives a beautiful picture of Brazilian scenery. A harbour, upon which his family, in a light canoe is going up-stream, propelled by means of a small square sail, and a negro slave sits in the helm guiding the frail craft with his paddle. It is a summer's noon, and the boatman seems unconscious of the sun's rays as he gazes contemplatively on the cheerful group of mother and child seated forward. He is returning from a short cruise with a cargo of reeds, and some bunches of the delicious banana and pine-apple. Either the painter or lithographer has, to our idea, made the reflection in the water too strong, but the rich banks, gigantic foliage, and perspective are beautifully executed, and show how charmingly the painter's genius can portray the most romantic scenes in Nature with a sweet domestic picture of the untutored children of these wilds. Verily, we envy M. Palliere not so much his graphic pencil, as the poetic richness of his fancy, which, like the fabled gift of mythology, turns everything to gold. The picture is indeed a bijou; but our critique grows lengthy, and we will conclude by advising our readers to send for the Album, at M. Fusoni's, 59 Calle Cangallo.

More News about Viner's Robbery

We mentioned yesterday the capture of another bougher of the gang which robbed the iron safe of Messrs. Viner and Co. It seems a member of that house went to Montevideo in search of the fellow, and having tracked him out on Saturday at eleven o'clock, gave intimation to the police. No time was to be lost lest he should escape, and some formalities had to be gone through in applying to the Dutch Consul and procuring an order from the Ministry of Government for the burglar's arrest. Such was the celerity displayed on the occasion, before two hours the burglar was safely lodged in prison. We suppose he will be at once removed to this city for trial, and it is hoped he may be able to give information of the missing documents which are even more valuable than the money stolen on the occasion, although to the robbers they are perfectly useless.

Gustav, the house-porter, had escaped to Santa Fe, and remained there the last few months, but hearing nothing of the arrest of his accomplices, he ventured to return last week, and actually arrived in Buenos Ayres to attend the May festivals. He was, however, accosted by a woman on the beach who is said to have upbraided him "Gustav, what mess is this you have got into?" whereupon she continued to narrate the whole discovery, and he declared himself so astonished that he would go immediately to his Consul to demand reparation! Of course he was no more heard of, and the police have probably lost the scent, if they had indeed ever found it. One of the burglars in prison kept a house of ill-fame in Calle Maypu: he is a German, and it is hoped knows where the booty was deposited. The prize however if worth stealing is still more worth keeping, and we cannot expect it will be disgorged, unless severe measures be taken; such as flogging all the robbers every morning until it be discovered.

MONEY WELL SPENT.

We extract from the Governor's message the following items, which reflect the greatest credit on Governor Saavedra.

Our readers will agree with us in saying that the million of dollars expended in building churches for public worship and roads and bridges is money well spent.

Governor Saavedra may be abused by a certain class of politicians, but it is now our duty to call the attention of our readers to his praiseworthy efforts to improve the province over which he has been called to rule.

The first that he will turn his attention to reforming the abuses in the camp, which we regret to say are daily increasing.

The following are the items of well spent provincial money.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Mercury left this port with the English mails on Friday evening, taking among her passengers, Capt. Bruce, Mr. Holly Hadson (late American Consul) and lady. The Rapier left for Liverpool yesterday, taking a large cargo and several passengers, including Mr. Rostron, late secretary to the Buenos Ayres Cricket Club.

Apropos, we should like to know how ended the challenge for a cricket match between the clubs of Buenos Ayres and Montevideo, expected to come off during the May festivals.

We notice the arrival of some North American and Cuban immigrants this week. We believe they bring some capital and intend to commence sheep-farming. It is a pity some of them won't start a paper-mill.

Mr. Wells will make his accent to-day, weather permitting, from Plaza Victoria, and the fact will be announced to the city by some rockets let off by order of the Municipality. It is said he will take commands for the Banda Oriental, and we wish him a safe voyage. If he comes down near Flores' head-quarters he will "surprise" the rebels better than Gen. Moreno has yet succeeded in doing. We understand his politics are what is termed "exaltado."

The Sunday races in Calle Solis, Barracas, are a great nuisance, bringing together a number of vagrant gauchos On last Sunday an accident occurred, two riders meeting on full tilt. Both were unseated, one breaking his arm, the other his leg. Both horses were killed by the shock.

Outrage on two Englishmen

We have been informed of a gross insult offered to two young English gentlemen, by the authorities of Banda Oriental. Messrs Payne and Solly arrived per last British packet and being intent on sheep farming, remained but a few days in this city before setting out for their destination, the environs of Mr. Hurts on the Uruguay. They were furnished with passports, and landed at Roman with their luggage. We do not know on what pretext the commander of the Villa Salto assumed the right to seize our two countrymen; but there was a rumour current last week that some Englishmen had been arrested for smuggling near Fray Bentos. Messrs Payne and Solly had nothing more than their luggage, and produced the necessary passports; nevertheless they were confined prisoners on board the steamer for four days until an order came for their release and that of their baggage. They were, at length set at liberty, but their luggages is still detained, and they have gone down to Montevideo, per Tavore, to lay their case before the English Minister and demand satisfaction from the Oriental Government for so gross an outrage.

No one that has at heart the interest of these countries can fail to regret the repetition of such disgraceful occurrences, the victims of which are generally new-comers. If immigration is desirable, we must make everything as smooth as possible for those who come hither to employ their energies and capital for the welfare of the country.

SPATE OF THE INTERIOR.

(From the Perro-carril.)

Nothing of great note has occurred in the provinces since the date of our last review, although that period has not been marked by events of considerable importance.

Amongst these we would mention the elections in Entre Rios, where the most powerful chief in the country has quietly retired from the Governorship, and has delivered up the power, not to a man of the sword, but to a peaceful citizen, Mr. Dominguez, whose character for honor, and his desire for peace and for the prosperity of the country are well known.

We consider this circumstance as very important, as it is proof of the perfect good faith of General Urquiza, a man whose power and influence in country are very great.

The event has importance for another reason.

Mr. Urquiza, although an ardent promotor of the advancement of the material interests of his country is a man whose hands are more or less tied by the element of disorganization which have attached themselves to him as a great party chief.

Mr. Dominguez is on the contrary perfectly free to choose the policy he thinks most advantageous to the interests of his province; and as he is known as militant republican, a friend to the peaceful arts, and a strong advocate for immigration, education and the introduction of new industries, it is probable that he will offer inducements of all kinds to immigrants, to whom the province of Entre Rios offers advantages not if not superior to those of the Uruguay Republic and this Province of Santa Fe.

The state of the provinces is satisfactory. The amount of goods distributed for the interior within the last month has been considerable, and the receipts of wool, hides, hair, manufactured goods, wines and fruit has been in proportion.

The news of the definite arrangement of the Cordoba Railroad, and the disposal of all the shares offered, has of course made a great impression here and already a change for the better is apparent, in the increased value of lands, and the arrivals of sheep farmers and others to purchase and establish themselves in the province.

Although Cordoba cannot be said to enjoy the profound state of political tranquillity which reigns in the province of Santa Fe, nothing has occurred there of importance since our last review. The country people are busy at their agricultural labors, and the commercial aspect of the province is improving. The news of the definite arrangement of the railroad was received there with great rejoicings.

The union of San Juan are becoming richer every day. A very respectable amount of silver is now got out, most of which finds its way however to Chile.

There is a good deal of excitement in Buenos Ayres in reference to the transatlantic railroad direct from that city to the Pass lately discovered by the great engineer Mr. Meiggs; but after all, an examination of the map will show clearly that Mr. Wheelwright's scheme to carry a road through the upper provinces, across the Andes at the pass of San Francisco, and join it to the Copiapo road, already constructed, is much the best feasible of the two.

To return to the Litoral. The northern frontier of this province has been perfectly secured against all future depredations of the Indians.

The great military road starting from a point opposite Corrientes, and running in a direct line to Santiago del Estero, has been surveyed half way and the native tribes, through whose territory it passes have not only not molested the surveying party, but have offered them every assistance in their power.

In the capital of this province the office of Governor, unlike other provinces is going abegging. The financee are in a flourishing state, and all the different Departments administered with prudence and economy.

We are happy to inform our English readers that a new English Magazine is about to be established in Rosario, to be dedicated entirely to the advancement of the material prosperity of the Argentine Republic.

The "Argentine Citizen" is to be edited by a distinguished literary gentleman, who has already done good service with his experienced pen.

The business in specie to-day was rather active, but in produce, with the exception of 6000 salted hides, at 23½ cents, there was nothing done as merchants were waiting their letters at the Post-office.

The German merchants were so possessed with the news, respecting the storming of Duppel, that there was positively no speaking to them on any other topic. One over sanguine Prussian broker stated that when England and France next attempted to take a fortress, such as Sebastopol, they should engage Prussians, as Duppel, he asserted, was twice as strong as Sebastopol.

Merchants complain greatly of the very high prices of specie, and attribute it to a combination amongst some half dozen of brokers.

On the news of the packet, respecting wool, is very good, and we hear all the holders of wool will make a rather nice profit.

We hear that a new board of directors has been formed to manage the affairs of the Argentine Central Railway Company here, Mr. Hart having been elected to the original number, 3.

The Paven arrived to-day with fifty passengers and some specie; everything in the interior is quiet, but Peru and Spain continue to fight for a living.

The Kepler left this evening for Montevideo, the captain having refused to wait to complete his cargo. We understand that it has orders to call on certain dates. She took however an unusual number of passengers (names in another column).

We have received an important letter from T. Stolterfoht and Sons, Liverpool, which we shall publish in our next.

The collections through town were rather better to-day than usual, the shopkeepers having apparently done well during the last few days.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA & C°
No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immenses advantages of Accounts current are now generally felt, and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that these are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo have a speedy provision for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p%] per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount depositted exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor of his wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
